About Us

At Sounds of Holiday, we believe that Christmas villages are more than just decorations—they're a way to capture the warmth, wonder, and timeless joy of the holiday season. As a proud veteran-owned, family-run small business, our mission goes beyond offering charming Christmas village homes; it's about creating lasting connections with others who share our love for the magic of holiday traditions. Though our inventory is just beginning to grow, our passion for the Christmas village world shines through every piece we share. We look forward to expanding our collection and building a community of fellow enthusiasts who, like us, find joy in bringing holiday stories to life, one village home at a time.
